State-of-the-art production process

- We manufacture the complete product under one roof, from the moulding of handles to the bristling and finally packaging of the brushes. Thus the conversion is rapid. Also quality, hygiene and confidentiality of the product is managed in a watertight way.
- Materials used are standardised and globally accepted ones only.
- Our systems respond rapidly to market demand and we are able to offer quick turn around time to clients.
- Bristling is done on the latest fully automated German machines.
- The entire procedure is fully wired by an active global quality assurance system.
- Technological innovations are continually incorporated for giving a design and quality edge to our products.
